SCSA WALKS THE TALK: ACHIEVING AN EXTERNAL COR AUDIT SCORE OF 96%

The SCSA has been recognized by the Canadian Federation of Construction Safety Associations (CFCSA) as having jurisdictional authority in Saskatchewan to issue the Certificate of Recognition (COR®) certification and has been externally recognized as having the utmost diligence in applying the national standards for construction safety. The SCSA is an organization that walks the talk. In 2019 the SCSA received a COR audit score of 96%, a significant improvement from the 89% that was earned during the audit three years ago. "[Their] safety manual includes a relevant collection of safe job practices and safe job procedures. The SCSA workers understood the applicable procedures relevant to their position within the company." - Matt Lothian, Auditor

SCSA EMPLOYEE BOOK CLUB PICK FOR Q1

The second book of the SCSA Employee Book Club is The Seven Habits of Highly Effective People by Stephen Covey. This book is written on Covey's belief that the way we see the world is entirely based on our own perceptions. In order to change a given situation, we must change ourselves, and in order to change ourselves, we must be able to change our perceptions. We all want to succeed. And one path to success is identifying the habits that can help us on our journey. Watch for discussion questions on the SCSA social media channels in the coming months and feel free to join the conversation on Being Proactive; Beginning with the End in Mind; Putting First Things First; Thinking Win-Win; Seeking First to Understand, Then to Be Understood; Synergizing; and Sharpening the Saw.

The Saskatchewan Construction Safety Association (SCSA) is an industry-funded, membership-based, non-profit organization that provides cost-effective, accessible safety training and advice to employers and employees in the construction industry throughout the province to reduce the human and financial losses associated with injuries. Registered March 22, 1995 the SCSA is, and has been since inception, committed to injury prevention. Serving almost 10,000 member companies, the vision of the SCSA is to create the Safest Construction Environment in Canada through its mission of Constructing Safety Leadership.
