Chairperson Report – April 21, 2016 Saskatoon RSC

The weather is cooperating and it looks like spring is in full swing. The streets are getting cleaned, grass is turning green and construction is picking up the pace.

On the BUSINESS ACTIVITY FRONT based on the City of Saskatoon Building Permit Report I would like to share a few statistics with you:

Although things have been somewhat quieter, it is my understanding that Saskatchewan, and Saskatoon accordingly is faring better than most other areas of the country. Economically world wide at least recently, we are holding our own to a degree.

THE NAOSH WEEK SAFETY EXPO is in full swing and we are looking forward to the BBQ FRIDAY May 6, 2016. Tickets will be available through your NOASH leaders, myself, Jason Clapper, & Bill Gessell SCSA and the CSSE website by credit card. Tickets will also be sold as always when you arrive at the event. It will be chips, burger and pop for $5.00.

We are heading into the time of year when things are hopefully ramping up more. I would encourage you to implement the Young Worker Readiness Certificate Course (YWRCC) and obtain a Certificate of Completion; you can take the course online or use a paper version. It is available online at http://ywrcc.saskatchewan.ca/.. Make it a requirement for all young workers starting out. Many students are encouraged to take the course at school but we can do more about it by making it a prerequisite for youth. Make it mandatory for first time employment or a specific age. We need to educate those first time young workers.

I look forward to hearing the presentation today from Can-Sask. I hope you all see a safe summer and we continue to experience growth and a prosperous times in our fair city.

Train the workers you need

Receive up to $10,000 per trainee

The Canada-Saskatchewan Job Grant provides employers with funding to train new or existing employees to meet the skill requirements for available jobs. The program helps ensure employees are being trained in high-demand fields.

Saskarc Industries, a custom steel fabrication company, used the Job Grant to train 60% of its workforce in a variety of areas, including safety training for front-line employees, CWB welding certifications for fabrication supervisors and software training for office staff.

"I would highly recommend the Canada-Saskatchewan Job Grant to employers that want to remain competitive in today's market."

- Cherry Fedalizo, Saskarc Industries

Saskatchewan

Eligibility

The Canada-Saskatchewan Job Grant is open to businesses and non-profits in Saskatchewan. The grant supports new investments in training and is not intended to replace an employer's existing investment in training. Training costs that are eligible for this grant include: tuition and mandatory student fees, textbooks, software and other required materials, and exam fees.

Cost Sharing

Employers invest one-third of training costs and gain the benefit of a worker who is skilled and ready to work. The Canada-Saskatchewan Job Grant will reimburse employers for the remaining two-thirds of eligible training costs. Employers may make multiple grant applications to a maximum of $250,000 annually.

Program Features

Employer Driven: Employers decide on who gets training and what type of training may be needed for new and existing employees.

Shared Costs: Training costs are shared between the program and the employer.

Employment: You employ the trainee at the end of training.

How To Apply

- Visit economy.gov.sk.ca/job-grant to complete a pre-assessment checklist.
- Submit the completed checklist to your nearest Labour Market Services office to determine your eligibility.
- The Labour Market Services office will then work with you to complete a grant application.
